Dahlia Culture

If you will follow these simple rules you should not have any trouble growing fine dahlias. Place roots about 4 to 5 inches deep and about 3 feet apart each way, in well worked soil.

Keep top soil stirred, especially after each rain.

Water only in very dry weather, then soak well. Do not sprinkle each day. Do not plant in dense shade, as dahlias like plenty of sunshine. After the plants are about 5 feet tall, do not stir the soil too deep, this may injure the small feeder roots.

Pests

For insects that appear on the plants during the growing season, use DDT or nicotine dust.

For bugs that feed on the flowers, spray with a mixture of one teaspoon of paris green to one gallon of water, keeping it stirred well.

Your County Agent will be glad to help you with these problems.

Storage

After killing frost dig roots carefully, cut the tops off about 1 or 2 inches from the cluster of roots, let them dry in the air a few hours if possible, then store in a cool damp cellar where they will not freeze. Store them with the stem downward if possible, this will reduce stem rot.

If your cellar is too dry you may store them in a box and cover with peat moss, sand or dry soil. Inspect them through the winter and if rot appears, cut it out and dust with dry sulphur.

You can cut the roots apart any time through the Winter or Spring, leaving part of the stem or neck with each division. One single root is as good as several. The tops do not have to be cut off immediately after frost, they can be cut off whenever the roots are dug.

Yours for a real good season,

CARL R. KUNZMAN

Dahlia Tubers

All prices herein are for strong roots, grown under natural conditions and will do well anywhere dahlias can be grown at all.

Roots can be sent any time the weather is not too cold. Please send in all orders as soon as possible and tell us when you wish to receive them. We will send your order any time until June 1st.

Do not order from an old list. This list cancels all previous lists and prices. All roots sent out are guaranteed to be in good growing condition and true to name.

Initials immediately following the name of variety indicate the type, as follows: F. D., formal decorative; I. D., informal decorative; B. D., ball decorative; S. C., semi-cactus; C., cactus; Min., miniature or small; Pom., pompon or button type. The figure following these initials is the approximate size in diameter, without disbudding.
